Van Liew's Lawyer Bitterly Assails Accuser of Chico Normal School's President in Stinging Speech to Jury

DR. VAN LIEW POSES AS SAVIOR OF YOUNG GIRLS

Dr Van Liew on the witness stand before the board of trustees, posing as the savior of youn; girls and the director of morals of the oung men who attended the institution of which he is the head, brought out the following sthent points of interest late restenday

That Governor Gillett in sunderstood him regarding his statement to that executive which the atter interpreted publicly as a confession that he (Van Liew) knew his moral stinding was bad

That he was in no way gullty of misconduct where Miss Ma Clark the 16 year-old sister of the Rev C Todd Clark, paster of Broadway Methodist church south, is concerned

That he never, so far as he clause to remember had any conversation other than brief remarks of the most formal nature with the young women, and that if they ever sat down either together or in the same room, as she claims it has entirely slipped his memory.

That far from insulting or making suggestlye remarks to the young women students under his care, he has acted always to quote his own term 'as a munisterial, one n ight say a spiritual adviser '

That he has on more than one occasion saved young women from rain Just how he did not state

That Professor Limer I Miller vice-president and instructor, had his permission, insofat as it was in I is power to give it, to apply for the position of Normal school president

That he drank occasionally wine, beer and not a few lunch hour cocktails but that he was never in he own judgment, intoxicated during school hours or indeed at any other time That he thought howe er, that damking in public places and whenever one saw fit was both permissible and in no wise ungentlemanly, and that he had never made my attempt to keep his indulgence in an occasional glass of their from the criticizing public

That his downfall would in his own opinion, in an the downfall of the State Normal school.

That his expilsion would injure the institution and detract from the high standard which he modestly laims to have built up for it.

Four-Story Structure of Mission Style of Architecture

to Be Built.

Hladiq & Thayer, San Francisco architects, have let a centract for a hotel building to be creeted on Leconfe street, west of Englid avenue

Beckeley, for Charles W. Ure, a London. England, capitalist.

The brilding is designed by the architects in pure mission style of architecture, to be four stories in height and will contain rooms and harbs. The exterior will be plastered. The main feature of the building will be the sleeping purches, which are to be connected with the private rooms. These twelve porches are sufficient to accommodate thirty beds and allowing each person exclusive privacy. Besides, there will be a very large roof garden. This building will be constructed with every modern conven-garden. This building will be con-structed with every modern conven-ience, to cost about $30,000.

STORIES ABOUT JEFFRIES BEING DOPED CAUSES FANS TO SMILE

It Was Lack of Nerve, Says Man Who Knows, That Beat the White Man in Recent Battle at Reno.

By EDDIE SMITH.

"There was something the matter with me. They sure did something to me, and it will all come out some day." For the first time since his defeat at Reno Jeffries has unburdened himself of his feelings regarding the reasons for his losin, the Lig fight.

But Masterson, in to ling of the great gun fighters of the days of the western frontier, gives u an idea of the kind of Cope used on Jeffries. In relating the stories of some great fights with the gan and of some of the gamest of the death-deft ng warriors, But tries to define the difference between nerve and course. He does this something after the following fashion. "Nerve is an indefinable something that keeps a man cool and makes his aim perfect even in the race of death. A man may have the courage to go into Lattle with another, and be just as insistent on a fight for life as the other fellow, and yer when the time comes when he must keep cool and take debb rate a.m, his nerve will fail him and the man who has perhaps been less it sistent on the fight will keep cool in the face of death and with steady nerve prove the best man with the gun. There is no defining this thing called nerve and yet it is the most essential thing a man must have to be a good ighter, either with his fists or with a gun. Courage is necessary, but herve more so" That tells the story of the dope given Jeffries. He had the courage to enter into the fight with Johnson and was confident of winning right up to the time when he required the nerve as explained by Masterson and then he fell down. Lack of nerve was the dope,

In the above statement there is a world of suspicion that the trainers, or some one of them, dojed him. It has been claimed by the Jeffries family that it was several days after the contest before the big fellow had thoroughly recovered his mental faculties, or in other words until he was really back tochis normal state of m ad. We have no doubt as to this fact, but the talk about dope is all bosh. Jeffries was not doped by any one in his camp or by any one other than the trainers. The story is getting old and we suppose no attention should be paid to the assert on that dope might have been used, but then there are the trainers and manager of Jeffries, who are entitled to some protection. Every time that Jeffries and those of his immediate surrounding refer to the dope story they east a shadow of suspicion over every man in the camp, and this is hardly the right thing to do. Jeffrles is credited with righing the above statement and no doubt did. It so he should immediate'y tell whom he suspects and not have the people guessing and suspecting every one connected with the camp. It is the opinion of the writer that Billy Delaney and the crowd were the ones to dope Jeffries and not his trainers. For the moment that Delancy arrived at Reno the dope started to work on Jeffries and the excitement of entering the ring put the final to iches to the muddled condition that Jeffries found himself in. Take it from me, Jeffries was not doped and had no nervous hysteria, as has been published from time to time. He was frightened by the extreme coolness of the colored man and the crowd. Increasing ago and long mactivity are the times that doped Jeffries, for they robbed him of all the courage that he ever possessed and sent him into the ring a shadow of his former self. There vas no dope used. There was no need of it,

Otto Floto is telling a good story of how the touts and show-off boys worked things at Reno. "I was coming out of the Golden Hetel one afternoon just a few days pr or to the contest" says Otto, "when a fresh young man rushed up to me and with extended hand he said:

" 'Hello, Joan, how are you?' "I looked at the fellow and said, 'You've made a mistake, young man,

> A most wonderful Pseavery has been made. More important by far than the discovery of America by Christopher Columbia. It has been discovered that Jack John on was a junitor in the city of New Haven, Conn., and that he made his irst start there with Kid Convey by boxing between times of sweeping out the store and pooleoom of Becky Stanford's place of business. Wenderfull lack his been forced to admit that this is the fact, However, it is a m, tter of history that Johnson was a boxer before he ever off his bome at Galveston and the New Haven people who are so anxious for the honor of startl g John Arthur are robbed of a little glamor they might have otherwise . ad.
